

NORTH CAROLINA BREWERS GUILD

THE STATE OF SOUTHERN BEER | NCBEER.ORG

North Carolina boasts more craft breweries than any state in the American South, with more than 20 brewpubs and 20 production breweries statewide. If you're in North Carolina, you're probably just a few miles from great craft beer. As a matter of fact, North Carolina holds its own amongst world-class beers. In recent years, North Carolina breweries have taken home more medals from the World Beer Cup and Great American Beer Festival than any other southern state.

Beer shouldn't be an anonymous beverage that comes out of mystery vats owned by international conglomerates. The best beer is fresh beer brewed locally by your fellow North Carolinians. From fledgling nano-breweries to the state's largest and longest-operating craft beer makers; from the Mountains, to the Piedmont, to the Triangle, to the Coast: North Carolina is the state of southern beer.
